

For immediate release

Contact:
Shannon Moody
804-290-8528
Shannon.Moody@AllanMyers.com

Allan Myers Announces Acquisition of Asphalt Plant in Washington, D.C.
D.C. plant is Myers' fourth added since 2017; 20th plant in the Mid-Atlantic

February 2, 2021 (Worcester, PA) - Allan Myers, the Mid-Atlantic's largest heavy civil construction and materials contractor, announced today the acquisition of Roubin & Janeiro's asphalt plant in Washington, D.C.

"Expanding our asphalt operations to the capital area is a natural fit for us to enhance our existing operations in the mid-Atlantic," said A. Ross Myers, Chairman and CEO, Allan Myers. "Adding this asset to our business further strengthens our operations in the region and provides significant growth opportunities for our customers and employees, including new employees joining our family from Roubin & Janeiro."

The new D.C. operation is Myers' twentieth operating asphalt facility, up 60% since 2014.

With full-service operations in Pennsylvania, Virginia, Maryland, Delaware, and now D.C., Allan Myers can provide quality service to the markets from Philadelphia to the VA/NC border.

###

About Allan Myers:

Allan Myers is a self-performing heavy civil construction and construction materials company with a strategic network of offices, quarries and asphalt plants covering the Mid-Atlantic from Philadelphia to Virginia Beach. Their dedicated workforce of more than 2,000 serves both private and public clients, building projects ranging from less than $1 million to more than $2 billion. www.allanmyers.com