"Reclamation Fill" means uncontaminated, non-water-soluble, non-decomposable, inert solid material including: (a) soil; (b) rock; (c) stone; (d) gravel; (e) unused bricks (provided no painted surfaces); (f) block and concrete (provided no painted surfaces); (g) block and concrete containing metal internally, which shall mean that all metal shall be removed from the surface of the block and/or concrete so that only rebar or other metals that are embedded in the concrete remain; and (h) incidental asphalt in an amount of 25% or less on average in any one load by volume.

Materials that do not meet the definition of Reclamation Fill or other requirements of the facility will not be accepted at the facility, including without limitation: materials containing wood; plaster; metals (except as provided in the definition of Reclamation Fill); asphaltic substances (including, but not limited to shingles/roofing materials) that do not qualify as incidental asphalt under the definition of Reclamation Fill; bricks, blocks, or concrete with painted surfaces; tile; refractory brick; fly ash; dredged materials; other materials that are not free or separate of materials meeting the definition of waste under applicable regulations; or other materials that do not meet the definition of Reclamation Fill or other requirements of the facility.

Further, no material that originates from an industrial or commercial site; a site with one or more underground storage tanks; an "Act 2" cleanup site; a superfund site; or a large source (a source exceeding 2500 tons) will be accepted at the facility (even if the materials meets the definition of Reclamation Fill) unless, before importation of the first load: (a) the material is adequately characterized per a laboratory analysis that complies with the applicable methodologies referenced in the Pennsylvania Department of Environmental Protection ("DEP") Management of Use of Reclamation Fill at Active Non-Coals sites and (b) the material is pre-approved by the Pottsville District Office of the DEP.

The facility has the right to reject any material for any reason.

Prior to using this site, a customer is required to (1) complete, sign and submit the Reclamation Fill Source – Devault Reclamation Facility Acceptance Information Agreement and (2) submit any required environmental due diligence information applicable to the material. Arrangements for delivery time, material type and quantity must be made in advance by contacting Steve Storti at 215.470.6059. Fill delivery will only be scheduled AFTER receipt of signed forms and payment arrangements are made. Credit Cards are accepted at the Scale house. All persons entering the site must have MSHA PPE including: Hard Hat, safety glasses and vest, gloves, long pants, shirt with sleeves and work boots.
